Integrated Audience Performances

are free for participants in both our In The Wings and Project Lights Up! programs. The content of the show is exactly what patrons will see at our public performances. Prior to the show, everything that could be considered alarming in any way will be disclosed in order to eliminate the element of surprise. There will be a talkback held after the show for the audience to have the chance to chat with the actors, crew, and directors and ask questions about the rehearsal process, set design/construction, costumes, and any other aspects of the production.

Accommodations for these performances include:

- Patrons may bring their own snacks into the theatre
- Designated activity area in the lobby
- Cozy calm corner in the lobby
- Remote video viewing in the lobby (no audio)
- Civic Theatre and Arts United Center staff trained to be inviting and accommodating to families' needs
- Sensory-FUN packets and noise-reducing headphones available
- Interactive activities in the lobby and gallery
- Costume and prop "touch tour" in the lobby
- Trained therapy dog on-site
